TEXT:

THE BEST JOB

Have you already thought of your future job? You are invited to read and choose.

The secretary speaks two languages at least. She classifies documents and she sometimes types. Generally, a young man is not advised to be a secretary. The farmer works at five or half past five in the morning till six or half past six in the evening. He works in the fields or looks after domestic animals. If you are fond of suit clothes at work, don't think of farmer's job.

The teachers love children and young people. They just have books, chalk and pens as friends. They work very much and so do the doctors. In the fact, the doctors work on working days, on Saturday, on Sunday, and they never refuse a call at night. They spend the most part of their time looking after patients.

But, I personally wish for the best job. I want to be a manager. So, I'll get up at eight o'clock in the morning and I'll start working at half past ten. The most part of my time will consist of meetings and telephone calls. I already imagine my clerks respectfully greeting me "Good morning, Sir! " I don't think of dealing with hard work. And nobody can urge me doing things. It's only me who can decide and think of how to get profits from my activities.
